

Sydney

This NSW based business manufactures letterbox banks for multi-dwelling residential, single letterboxes for residential use and commercial properties. All are available with the same high quality construction materials and features.

With 35 years' experience in the industry, this business understands that not only do their letterboxes need to look good, but they also require sturdy construction, using long lasting hi-grade materials.

All products are constructed from quality aluminium extrusions and stainless-steel components, which have been designed to conform to Australia Post specifications and are Post Office Preferred and are available in a range of exterior finishes.

The business has a diversified customer base and strong consistent financial performance.
